The Society was founded in 1840 to promote the study of history, architectural history, and archaeology, and the conservation of relevant features and objects within the county of Cambridge. Membership benefits include a programme of welcoming early evening lectures once each month between October and June, reduced entry to day excursions led by experts, reduced entry to its two all-day conferences (one in the spring and one in November) and a free copy of the Society's journal, the Proceedings of the Cambridge Antiquarian Society, and of The Conduit.

Lectures are usually held on Monday evenings at 6 pm in the Faculty of Law on the University of Cambridge's Sidgwick site, unless otherwise notified. There is plentiful free car parking.

Membership: ordinary members £12.50; families and affiliated societies £15.00; no charge for visitors or guests. New members are warmly welcomed.
