Caxton Historical Society is a small group from Caxton, Bourn and neighbouring villages, with varied interests: antiquarian, archaeological and historical, family history, rural life and pursuits, buildings, etc.

The Society meets at Caxton Village Hall, usually on the second Monday of February, May, September, and November. Membership is £8 per annum and visitors are welcome to attend meetings at £2 per visit. The society also occasionally has additional meetings and excursions to local villages or museums.

Programme:

Nov 8 Corrinne Duhig Osteo-archaeology
