We are a fairly young civic society for the market town of March. We are involved in conservation and preservation and have monthly meetings where speakers are invited to talk on subjects related to the past, present or future of March.

We have a monthly talk and an annual historic walk in King's Lynn led by Dr Paul Richards in June, and a March historic walk in August led by Edna Stacey, archivist of March Museum.

If you would like to join us, just come to one of the meetings featured below and on the home page of our website or fill in the form on our website and we will contact you.

Our aims are to: promote high standards of planning and architecture in March; inform the public in the geography, history, natural history, and architecture of March; support the preservation, protection, development and improvement of features of historic or public interest in March; and to promote civic pride in March. We will cooperate with the local authorities, planning committees, voluntary organisations, charities, and people with similar aims to The March Society. We are interested in any building of beauty or historic interest within March. Amongst our future plans: heritage walks & visits to local houses, exhibitions of photographs of March, and digital archive of the town buildings

Meetings: From September in March Town Hall on the first Wednesday of the month from 7pm to 9pm.

Membership: Individual: £5; Joint at the same address: £8.00; Under 18: £0.00; Corporate: £20 Membership runs from September to August.

Entrance to meetings is £2.50 for non-members and £1.50 for members. Tea, coffee, and biscuits provided.

Further information about the Programme is available from the Secretary
